

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

Mrs. Winfield S. Hanson, of Dorchester, Mass., is a guest at the home of her father, George Fish.

Maj. J. E. Ardrey, U. S. A., of Fort McPherson, Atlanta, was a recent guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Spratt.

Miss Louise Simmons of Brunswick, Hampton county, student at Winthrop college, was a weekend guest in the home of F. E. Ardrey.

Malcolm D. Link, who has been employed in Biddeford, Me., for the last two years, is in Fort Mill visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Link.

Miss Kathleen Koonce of Rock Hill was a guest during the past week of the Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Viser at the Presbyterian manse.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Courtney of Monroe, N. C., were guests for the week-end of Mrs. Courtney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Culp.

Mrs. C. C. Mellwaine is ill of pneumonia at her home in Fort Mill. Yesterday Mrs. Mellwaine's condition was reported somewhat improved.

A considerable amount of repair work has been done on a number of the streets of Fort Mill since the new council took charge of the town's affairs in January.

George Potts, negro laborer, had one of his legs broken a few days ago by a cave-in at a gravel pit in which he was at work near the county river bridge. He was taken to a hospital in Rock Hill where the broken limb was set.

The condition of George Fish, general manager of the plants of the Fort Mill Manufacturing company, who has been ill for several weeks, continues to improve and his friends are hopeful that he will be able to leave his home in a few days.

The Tom Hall Guards, local military company, of which Frederick Nims, Jr., is captain, plans to begin holding drills frequently within the next few days in anticipation of the annual inspection on March 20 by the adjutant general's department. The company is rated as one of the best infantry organizations in the National Guard of the State and is expected to pass a creditable inspection.

Numerous Fort Mill people who have not yet paid their State and county taxes for 1921 are inquiring as to the probability of the Legislature extending the time for payment. Unless there is an unexpected hitch over the slight amendment made to the senate bill by the house and the governor does not veto the bill, which seems unlikely, The Times is in position to state that the time will be extended until July 1.

A meeting of the subscribers to the stock of the proposed cannery for Fort Mill was held in the town hall last Tuesday afternoon and a committee was appointed to visit a cannery in another section of the State to obtain first hand information of the practical operation of such an enterprise. Another meeting of the stock subscribers is to be held within a few days, it is stated, at which plans will be laid to go forward with the organization of the cannery company or to abandon entirely the project.

Officers of the First National bank of Fort Mill are much gratified over the interest manifested by pupils of the various schools in this section in the contest put on by the bank several weeks ago in which cash prizes are being offered 16 pupils for the best essays on "Washington, a Soldier." The contest will close on Wednesday, February 22, Washington's birthday, and the winners will be announced as soon thereafter as the judges are able to grade the papers. The Times will print in its news columns the essay awarded the capital prize and perhaps one or two of the others considered best by the judges. None of the essays are to be more than 400 words in length.

Train Kills Mules.

Two mules were killed and a wagon demolished by Southern passenger train No. 114, south-bound, at Spratt street crossing in Fort Mill Monday morning about 11:30 o'clock. The mules and wagon were the property of Brown Nivens, Gold Hill farmer. Tom Smith, tenant on Mr. Nivens' farm, was the driver of the wagon and he escaped without injury by jumping. The wagon was loaded with wood and was approaching the track down the sharp descent from the west side. Smith is said to have stated that he heard the approaching train, and that he tried in vain to stop the mules before they got upon the track, but the load was so heavy the mules could not hold back the wagon. The crossing is about 200 yards south of the passenger station and is considered dangerous on account of the buildings obstructing the view of the track in both directions and the sharp descent on the west side.

A reformer is getting ready to call a convention of women who are opposed to short skirts. And an Illinois paper offers its telephone booth to hold the convention in.

OUR ESSAY CONTEST

ON "Washington a Soldier"
